HYDRO22 conference - call for paper

Dear fellow hydrographers,

Initially planned in December 2020, the IFHS hydrographic conference, now renamed HYDRO22, will take place from the 6th to the 8th of December 2022 at the Grimaldi Forum in Monaco.

After two very complicated years, our community has grown, attracting younger generations with innovative ideas and eager to enhance our Blue World. As a conscious community, it also our duty to recognize our role and responsibility in the resilience of our climate, the access of marine knowledge and the sharing of our expertise to the widest audience.

Today, we wish to gather again the widest hydrographic and hydrosatial community for this event under this ambitious banner: "Towards Enhanced Responsibility".

To start with the HYDRO22 countdown, we are proud to announce the opening of the call for paper.

You can submit your contribution through a 20 minutes talk, live or field demonstration (from a secured wharf nearby the conference hall) with the following details:

The content of your expected contribution shall include the following information:

- Name, Surname of the contributor;
- Company, administration, institute;
- Contact details;
- Short abstract 200 words max;
- For demo short presentation of the demonstration concept, equipment involved...

All contributions are to be sent not later than 30th of June 2022 to the following address:
hydro22@hydrographicsociety.org

The selected contributions will then be dispatched in 8 sessions including 3 to 4 contributions each and covering a large spectrum of topics: Data processing, digitalisation, navigation safety, charting, teledetection, autonomy, environmental assessment, impact assessment, ...Bear in mind, all selected contributors will be expected to register for the whole duration of the conference (3 days).

We thank you all for your attention, consideration, and time and wish to see all of you in Monaco next December.

Yours sincerely,

David Vincentelli,

AFHy Chairman
